

DR. TASHA MAC

IDENTITY INTEGRATION SCIENTIST | AUTHOR | SPEAKER |
FOUNDER, THE RESET STUDIOS | CREATOR, IDENTITY INTEGRATION SCIENCE

"I identify the disruption before symptoms emerge."

Dr. Tasha Mac, h.c. is an Identity Integration Scientist, author, speaker, business strategist, and Founder of The Reset Studios™, after significant disruption changed the terms of her own life, Dr. Tasha began examining a recurring human pattern she had observed across organizations and leadership: people could remain outwardly functional, productive, and high performing while something underneath had already destabilized.

Her work is informed by more than 25 years across business strategy, systems analysis, financial management, risk, regulatory compliance, leadership, training, federal service, defense contracting, higher education, entrepreneurship, and organizational operations. Her career has spanned globally recognized organizations and complex environments across Big Four public accounting, financial services, defense, aerospace, aviation training, and government.

She has served as an Adjunct Accounting Professor at Westwood College, trained professionals across federal and organizational settings, and previously held a Top Secret security clearance following favorable adjudication, with experience supporting U.S. intelligence and Department of Defense personnel.

Her work is non-clinical by design.

There is no diagnosis and no label - because the people who need this most are the ones who will never walk into a clinical setting.
